

Tribune Photo by James Mayo

Health, big team, health

A baby bear joins the Honey Bears in a demonstration of aerobic dancing Wednesday on a lawn outside the Michael Reese Hospital intern's quarters at 2800 S. Ellis Av. The Chicago Bears cheerleaders performed the movements, a combination of dancing, exercise, and cheerleading, to stress health and fitness as part of Medical Research Week, a highlight of the annual fund-raising drive for medical research at Michael Reese. The performance was so inspiring that 3-year-old Maria Ford just had to try it too.